PORT OF NEW YORK.

RETURN OF THE WASHINGTON.—The steamer Washington returned to this city at about 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon to the surprise and regret not only of the parties immediately concerned, but of the public generally. It seems that the cause of the evening was the leaving something was found to be the matter in the cylinder of her larboard engine, and although the cylinder head was removed for the purpose of examining, it being supposed that the piston keys were loose. Nothing appeared, things were restored to their place, and the engine started again. But as the thumping in the cylinder continued, it was stopped again at 9 o'clock, when it was found that the piston head was cracked. Accordingly, as the engineers declared it to be unsafe to proceed, Captain Johnson at once put the ship about, and with her starboard head was removed for the purpose of examining. We learn from one of the passengers that all on board were highly delighted with the sailing qualities of Washington, as well as with her superior accommodations and the courtesy and skill of her gentlemanly officers. We believe all the passengers intended to go out in her.

She sails on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

A Taylor Meeting.—We hear, is to be held at Military Hall on Wednesday evening, and Cassius M. Clay is to speak. Let us be generous and look in, see us, and not have the affair so forcibly stimulat last as it is set forth in the paper. It will be a meeting of the most brilliant entertainments ever witnessed in this City. From an advertisement in another column our readers may find where to furnish themselves with tickets.

The Festival To-Morrow Night.—We learn that the preparations for the National Ball to take place at the Park Theater to-morrow night are going forward with great energy and every prospect of making it one of the most brilliant entertainments ever witnessed in this City.

From an advertisement in another column our readers may find where to furnish themselves with tickets.

FIRE AND LOSS OF LIFE.—On Saturday afternoon, shortly before the doors of the Broadway Theater were opened for the night, an alarm of fire was given by the colored woman who sweeps the house, when several persons who were on the sidewalk in Broadway dashed in and found the red curtain in one blaze of fire. They attempted to pull it down, but not succeeding, Mr. Gallatin, the carpenter of the theater, and another man went up to the rigging and cut it loose. When this fell on the stage the drop curtain was also discovered to be on fire, and was cut loose soon, when the barrel fell on one of the men below, named Samuel Pray, and crushed him so dreadfully that he died while being conveyed to the City Hospital. The deceased was in the 49th year of his age, and had been in the employment of Col. Mann sometime or four months back.

An instant was held on the body in the City Hospital yesterday by Coroner Walker, and the facts were adduced in evidence. A witness was rendered that Samuel Pray came to his death by injuries accidentally received by the falling of the drop curtain at the fire in the theater.

For the Tribune.

SELECT SCHOOL FOR YOUNG LADIES.—We were much gratified in visiting one day last week a School for young Ladies and Misses in our neighboring village of Williamsburg (No. 1 Columbia-road, Front St.) to witness the order, neatness and regularity which characterize the school and all the arrangements connected therewith.

Judging from the high character and qualifications of the ladies who have undertaken this laudable enterprise and from the appearance and arrangement of their school, we feel great confidence in commending their institution to the notice and patronage of the public.

We understand that there are still a few vacancies, and from its delightful situation on the banks of the East River, in every way desirable. The terms are very moderate, but $150 per annum for board and tuition. In all the ordinary English branches, together with music, the use of piano, drawing, painting, and fancy needle-work. We are quite certain that a visit would impress every other person as it did ourselves with the full belief that no other place in this vicinity presents superior, if equal, advantages.
